

Admaston/Bromley Public Library

Policy Type: Operational
Policy Title: Collection Development

Policy Number: OP-04

Approval Date: October 2015
Review Date: October 2021

The collections support the library's mission to stimulate the imagination and inquiry, through literature and reference, for culture and commerce. It is the goal of the Admaston/Bromley Public Library to provide equitable access to ideas and knowledge. The Library is committed to making the collections accessible to people with disabilities by offering a choice of formats. This policy sets out the parameters for the development of the collections and decisions on the selection of materials and is the basis for collection evaluation, planning and budgeting.

Section 1: Intellectual Freedom

Basic to Library's Policy for the Selection of Library materials is the "Statement on Intellectual Freedom", ratified by the Canadian Library Association in June 1984. The Admaston/ Bromley Community library accepts without reservation this statement.

1. Every person in Canada has the fundamental right, as embodied in the nation's Bill of Rights, to have access to all expressions of knowledge, creativity and intellectual activity, and to express his/ her thoughts publicly. This right to intellectual freedom is essential to the health and development of Canadian society.
2. Libraries have a basic responsibility for the development and maintenance of intellectual freedom.
3. It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee and facilitate access to all expressions of knowledge and intellectual activity including those, which some elements of society may consider to be unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, libraries shall acquire and make available the widest variety of materials.
4. It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee the right of free expression by making available the entire library's public facilities and services to all individuals and groups who need them.
5. Libraries should resist all efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.
6. Both employees and employers in libraries have a duty, in addition to their institutional responsibilities, to uphold these principles.

Section 2: Scope and Size of the Collection

1. The library provides a collection of books and materials that is responsive to the needs and interest of a diverse community:
 - a. including a variety of alternative formats,
 - b. including multilingual materials in response to community need

2. The collections shall be balanced and represent diverse points of view and may include materials that some members of the public consider to be controversial in nature.
3. The presence of an item in the library does not indicate an endorsement of its content.
4. It may happen that materials in the collections meet the needs of students, but this is not the primary reason for their selection. It is the responsibility of schools to provide materials, which support their curricula.
5. The library develops collections which include, but are not limited to, the following areas: fiction and non-fiction for adults, teen and junior; magazines, dvd's, picture books, music, local history and local interest, adult literacy, and government documents.
6. The staff is responsible for developing profiles for each area of the collection to further define the scope of the collections. These profiles are tool for collection development and evaluation.
7. The library participates in consortia and in pools to broaden the scope and size of the collection. To provide users with print disabilities with a broader collection the library will join accessible format initiatives (CELA).
8. Recognized, professional standards will be used to determine the appropriate size of the collection. Planning for budgets and facilities must reflect these standards.

Section 3: Selection of Materials

1. The board delegates the responsibility for the collection to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO).
2. Selection responsibility for specific portions of the collections may be delegated to staff. In selecting materials, staff will use professional resources, judgment, knowledge and experience.
3. The staff will proactively solicit advice from, as well as anticipate the needs and interests of, the community.
4. What is ordered, and what remains in the collections, is based on the following criteria:
 - a) recommendations by critics or reviewers
 - b) public demand
 - c) relationship of subject to existing collection
 - d) importance of subject matter in relation to community needs
 - e) authority or significance of author
 - f) quality of writing, production and illustrations
 - g) accessibility criteria and features
 - h) authority and standards of publisher
 - i) suitability of format for library use
 - j) Canadian content

Section 4: Withdrawal and Replacement of Items

1. An up-to-date, attractive and useful collection is maintained through a continual withdrawal and replacement process.
2. The ongoing process of withdrawal is the responsibility of the CEO. This responsibility may be shared with other members of the staff.
3. Items will be withdrawn based on the ALA's Crew Method for weeding the collection.

4. Withdrawn material may be discarded or sold.
5. Replacement shall depend on demand for the title, availability of the title, availability of more current material on the subject, and the extent to which the subject is already covered in the collection.

Section 5: Gifts and Donations

1. The library accepts gifts of books, other materials, or money for the purchase of specific items, with the understanding that they will be added to the collection only if appropriate, needed and contribute to a balanced collection.
2. The same criteria of selection and withdrawing, that are applied to purchased materials are also applied to gifts and donations.
3. Materials not added to the collection are discarded or sold. "The Public Library is not an archive."

Section 6: Requests from Members of the Community

1. Suggestions from the community for the purchase of items are always welcome and are given due consideration.
2. Requests for the re-consideration of, withdrawal of, or restricted access to, a specific item in the collection from a member of the community must be received by the CEO in writing. Responses to these requests are guided by the board's position that :
 - a) people have the right to reject for themselves material of which they do not approve but they do not have the right to restrict the intellectual freedom of others
 - b) it is the right of parents and legal guardians to develop, interpret and enforce their own code of ethics upon their minor children
